

Once again I am amazed by what is happening in our nation to jeopardize our democratic principles and foundations. The media in all its formats has been a tool of our democratic process. Now it seems to be a tool to be used against our democracy. The decision by Sinclair Broadcasting to air an anti-Kerry documentary just a few days before the upcoming election is an obvious disregard of fair and objective reporting. If fairness and objectivity was the purpose of airing this show, than an honest account of the Bush Administration is merited.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. I ask, by airing this program, whose interests are being served? Who benefits from biased, partisan propaganda? What nation and what century do we live in?

It is time someone takes responsibility for the blatant attack on our most basic democratic principles. Do not allow Sinclair Broadcasting to air this proposed documentary without airing an opposing perspective. There is nothing wrong with airing a documentary that expresses opinions as long as there is an opportunity to hear opposing or opposite points of view.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

David Kleweno
